FAR-REACHING INFLUENCE

Just how far a paper reaches out has been demonstrated in the government land sale which was recently advertised in The Ardmoreite. Among the letters of inquiry that came to Col. Mills here at the Indian office, one of them was from New York and mentioned The Ardmoreite as the paper in which the advertisement was seen, another was from Canada and still another from New Mexico.

There is a widespread interest in southern Oklahoma. Ardmore has the reputation of being in the midst of a vast activity, and copies of the paper published here are sought in many states that formerly took no interest in us. This condition demonstrates to us that we have a certain responsibility in the upbuilding of this section. It shall be our purpose to try to reflect the real conditions that exist. It shall not be our purpose to try to mislead any investors. Although persons come from as far away as Canada, when they arrive it shall be a proud moment with us when they state that they expected to find here what they did from the reading of the columns of this paper. We have tried to direct the news matter in a way that it would be dependable, and not carry that idea of empty hollow boost that would disgust the man who had come a few thousand miles to make investigations for investment purposes.

So far we feel that we have succeeded reasonably well, and our efforts in this direction shall not be slackened.

SLEEPING ROOMS NEEDED.

An Ardmore visitor who had to spend the entire night on the streets last night, for the reason that he could not obtain a room, made the suggestion that Ardmore people should throw their homes open to the public for the purpose of caring for those who want to come to Ardmore, and who get in too late to make reservations at the hotels.

The suggestion is not a bad one, and if this condition is to remain here until a new hotel is built, it would be a good idea for the citizens of the city to establish headquarters at one of the hotels, and to direct persons to rooms in the residence section when they cannot obtain accommodations at the hotels.

The prospects are that not only will these conditions prevail here for some time, but that even more people will come. A condition which prevents people from getting sleeping accommodations in a city, produces a psychological effect upon the public, it makes everybody want to come to a town, and there will be a condition here throughout the winter months that in all probability will need the attention of some good citizens, that visitors may be properly cared for at nights.

A GOOD INDEX

Is Ardmore growing more prosperous? Take note of the amount of advertising being done, and you will find the answer more clear than in any other line of endeavor. Merchants advertise because, first, they have the goods, and second, they believe they have the people to cater to, and thirdly, because the people have the money to spend, and prosperity and spending are synonymous terms.

That does not always mean that in prosperous towns all people do is to spend their money, but it does mean that they buy what they need and indulge themselves to the extent of having at least the comforts they are entitled to.

Then, again, merchants are judicious. The most progressive advertise in some shape or other all of the time, but they gauge their advertising by current conditions.

And, judging Ardmore by its progressive advertisers, a glance each day at The Ardmoreite alone, to say nothing of other worthy mediums, will convince anyone that prosperity is here.

And finally, judging by the methods employed by those merchants, by the wonderful variety of stock carried, it is evident they have every confidence in prosperity remaining.

And it will.

DICKENS GAVE FORECAST.

Dickens, in Pickwick Papers, makes mention of a young lady with furs on the top of her boots. He was merely forecasting the style of today. The women are not only using fur trimmings for the tops of their boots, but on their coats and skirts as well. Possum, fur, cat fur or any other kind of fur is in demand now, but the style has recently received somewhat of a jolt from a New York surgeon, who says that furs with cheap dyestuff, especially the cat fur, is producing anthrax, and he gives an instance of a young woman who died from the disease caused by the fur. Those who take fright at the cat fur disease will be laying aside these garments or will be sending them to the tailor's to have the fur taken off.

But Ardmore has one girl who will run any kind of risk to keep on wearing that fur around the tops of her shoes. This girl happens to be black, she also happened to be employed near the explosion on the 27th of September and received a nice sum of money to remunerate her for the shocking of her nerves. Her first purchase was a pair of shoes with furs around the tops, and she wears them with greater delight than a millionaire's daughter ever wore a diamond tiara.

Beware of Cheap Substitutes

In these days of keen competition it is important that the public should see that they get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and not take substitutes sold for the sake of extra profit. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has stood the test and been approved for more than forty years. Obtainable everywhere.

"THE FIXER" AT MAJESTIC
TOMORROW—WEDNESDAY

Something brand new in motion picture comedy will be the offering at the Majestic theatre tomorrow, when George Kleine's "The Fixer," featuring Bickel and Watson, is scheduled for screening.

"The Fixer" is the latest product of the Kleine Studios and is in many ways a precedent maker. The interiors, supporting casts and general detail is of real feature quality which is unusual in comedy productions. The greatest slapstick artists in the world, Bickel and Watson, will be seen in a logical story, charged with many funny situations, and in no way dependent upon the ordinary tumble-about comedy or stock business tricks of any individual. Supporting Bickel and Watson are Snitz Edwards, Ben L. Taggart, Alma Hanlon, Ruby Hoffman, John Nicholson and other Broadway artists.

The story is familiar to theatre-goers of the last two generations as "Hello, Bill" Willis M. Goodhue's famous stage farce on which the film is founded.

FAMOUS PLAYERS PRESENT
"THE FATAL CARD" AT PALACE

With a lavishness difficult to measure in words with a generosity that conforms with all its past traditions, the Famous Players Film company, in association with the Charles Frohman company, was not content to present one star in its screen version of the famous dramatic success, "The Fatal Card," but, notwithstanding the importance and fame of the subject itself, has assigned two of its stars to interpret its leading roles. These players are no less important favorites than John Mason and Hazel Dawn. The former will be remembered for his sterling and powerful characterization in his first screen appearance, in "Jim the Penman," and Hazel Dawn, one of the most charming members of the set of younger American stars, recently deserted the stage permanently to become allied indefinitely with the Famous Players Film company, and is now well established as one of the shining stars of the motion picture firmament.

Merchants Meet Tonight

The Business Men's Association will meet tonight at the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce in the court house at eight o'clock and every merchant and business man in the city is urged to attend. This is the first meeting since Secretary Walter S. Gilbert has assumed his duties, and some matters of urgent importance are to be discussed.

A Wonderful Activity.

Oce Allen, treasurer of Rogers county is an Ardmore visitor. Mrs. Allen was here visiting with her sister, Mrs. Howard Spear, and Mr. Allen joined her here. He states that Ardmore is the busiest town he ever saw and he expects a great city to be built here now within a short time.

EVER SALIVATED BY
CALOMEL? HORRIBLE

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.
